Welcome to the latest edition of The Bird Directory. Thanks for allowing us the opportunity to share your day.

The Bird Directory is a directory service for those looking for birds and bird services. From aviaries to zoological bird displays and anything bird related. We have assembled this edition of The Bird Directory for your use and enjoyment. The Bird Directory has many information packed pages on the following:

- Breeders
- Cage Dealers
- Toy Sources
- Veterinarians
- Food Suppliers

The format is simple and plain, you won't find any "fillers" or fluff here. Nothing but avian related materials all in one place! You will find the content easy to read and free of jargon. We have packed as much information into each entry as we could find for them.

You won't see a directory such as this offered anywhere else, especially not at this price. Free is kind of hard to beat! One look through the many pages of this directory and you will see that it is unlike any other directory. Avian or non-avian.

We've done the researched for you in The Bird Directory. You will find a gold mine of avian based information within these pages. This directory is easy to read and will be right at your fingertips when you need it. No need to use Google or any other search engine!

A quick word about some listings that you will encounter here on The Bird Directory. Some of the contact information seems sparse on some entries due to privacy issues.
